RSGC

The Georgian

This year marks the 60th Anniversary of the Royal College and it was a memorable one!

The theme this yearbook is "scrapbook" because sometimes life gets a little messy but it's still amazing! I hope you look back on 2024-25 with fond memories for a long time to come.

Thank you to the amazing photographers who documented everything perfectly! Top mention goes to Mr. T. Stevens and also big thanks to Mr. S. Heipel and Will Daniels '25.

BRING THE PASSION

STEWARD TIES

Steward Ties are presented to individuals who demonstrate outstanding leadership and service within the school throughout the year, or often over two or more years. These are not elected positions, but rather individuals who seek opportunities, on their own, to give back to the school community. Stewards partner with staff members to help organize and promote elements of interest to other students. Staff and faculty nominate stewards based on their observations of ongoing and significant leadership over a period of time.

Aidan Arabzadeh
The funny thing is I came to RSGC in Grade 3—so long ago I can't even remember! This school has been my whole life, and it's going to be difficult to put it all behind me, whether that be the early mornings at tennis and volleyball practice, the late nights studying, or spending way too much time playing video games with my friends during online school. I would like to express my gratitude to all the amazing teachers I've had over the years who pushed me to become who I am today, especially Mr Wade West for introducing me to instrumental music and organizing that final band trip to Japan in 2024. Time doesn't wait for anyone (unless you are moving at relativistic speeds), so live in the present, chase after your dreams, and try to have some fun while you are at it.

Camden Arabzadeh
After 10 years at this school, it's hard to say goodbye. I've grown, learned, and made memories I'll never forget. Thanks to everyone who's been part of the journey – it's been one to remember.
I thought about quoting Commander Erwin on not having regrets, but the truth is, I have plenty. Still, I've learned that not everything will go the way you hope. You just have to keep moving forward and trust that the future holds new chances to rebuild the parts of yourself you've lost. As John D. Rockefeller once said, "Don't be afraid to give up the good to go for the great."

I want to thank Mr. Seale and Ms. Mladen for shaping me into the artist I am today and encouraging me to pursue my passions when others didn't. Thank you to Mr. Mooney and Mr. Fleming for putting up with my many essay rewrites and setting me on a path to art school, a journey I anticipate dearly. I am also grateful to Ms. Hart, Mr. Aziz, and Dr. Evans for always encouraging me to push my writing as a creative outlet, a passion that would've remained dormant without your support.

When I was a young lad, I decided to come to the Royal College for two reasons: to join clubs and be a part of the play. Now, after 6 years, I can say that I work a full-time, 50-hour work week, unpaid job, including a weekly 12-hour shift - but I'm just doing what I wanted for so long. From an early Friday morning run to a band practice, play rehearsal or intense game of Magic after school, I made the most out of every hour I spent here, thanks to the many excellent teachers who have made my dream possible.

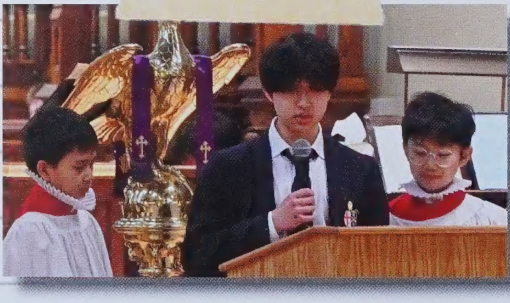
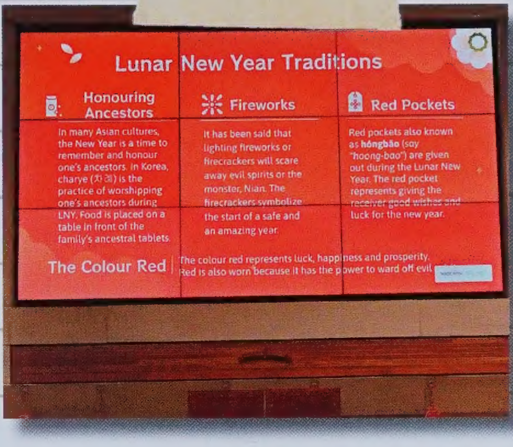
LUNAR NEW YEAR





Lunar New Year Traditions

Honouring Ancestors

In many Asian cultures, the New Year is a time to remember and honour one's ancestors. In Korea, charye (차례) is the practice of worshipping one's ancestors during LNY. Food is placed on a table in front of the family's ancestral tablets.

Fireworks

It has been said that lighting fireworks or firecrackers will scare away evil spirits or the monster, Nian. The firecrackers symbolize the start of a safe and an amazing year.

Red Pockets

Red pockets also known as hóngbāo (say "hoong-bao") are given out during the Lunar New Year. The red pocket represents giving the receiver good wishes and luck for the new year.

The Colour Red | The colour red represents luck, happiness and prosperity. Red is also worn because it has the power to ward off evil.

While on paper, it wasn't the Senior Volleyball team's most successful season, it was one of enormous growth, and our athletes should be proud of their incredible work ethic and dedication to the sport. Our athletes trained hard to hone new skills and systems and showed noticeable improvement after each training session and every competitive match. The coaches couldn't be more proud of how well they worked together through good and challenging moments. Their positivity, teamwork, and respect for the game were always on display. Thank you for a great season together.

This year, for the first time in many years, RSGC sent a basketball team to the CAIS National tournament in St. Catherines at Ridley College. The tournament was a great opportunity to face strong competition before the regular season, and we were even able to play against some of our biggest competitors for the season. we started strong, beating teams by 20, but we ended up losing in the semis to Trinity College, who played a great game. This tournament was a great stepping stone to what ended up being a season for the ages. A big thank you goes out to Mr. Ruscitti, Serellas, and Blanchette, who went out of their way to organize this memorable tournament.

The 2024-2025 season marked the return of senior school squash at RSGC–our first in over a decade. As a newly rejuvenated team, we started our journey with a strong lineup and high hopes. We made an early statement with a third-place finish at the Early Bird Tournament, setting the tone for the season ahead. While challenges followed and tested our resilience, we pushed through, ultimately finishing just three points shy of third place in the finals–a remarkable accomplishment for our comeback year.
But the true highlight wasn't just our results but our growth. At the start, our focus was on individual performance. As the season progressed, we began to understand the power of unity. We evolved from a group of solo competitors into a true team, lifting each other on and off the court. By season's end, our Georgian spirit was on full display–not only in how we played our matches, but in how we coached, supported, and stood by our teammates every step."

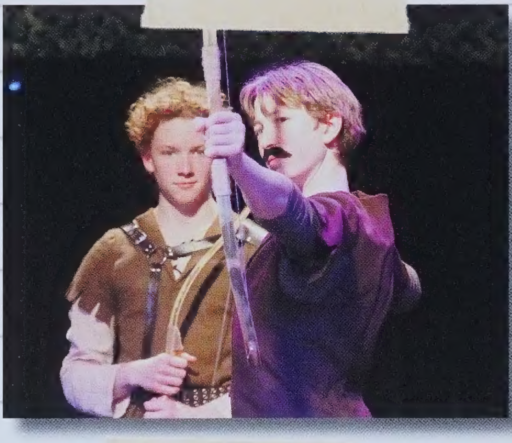
SHERWOOD

THE ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD



This year's senior school production of Sherwood: The Adventures of Robin Hood was a thrilling blend of action, comedy, and heart. Over months of rehearsal, the cast trained in the art of stage combat, mastered complex blocking, and sharpened their comedic timing to bring this classic tale to life. Behind the scenes, our dedicated tech and stage crew worked with professionalism and precision, making the magic happen at every performance. Together, these talented artists delivered a bold and unforgettable show to the RSGC community.

The Tournament That Shaped Me

By Liam Northup

The way I see it, who we are comes from the choices we make. Everyone faces unique challenges, but your circumstances don't define who you are; your response does. The lessons we take to heart, the challenges we overcome (or try to), and the moments that test us shape our character. Like anyone, I definitely have my individual strengths and weaknesses. However, I always give my all in everything, no matter the challenge or the task. I've learned to keep going. My determination isn't just about achieving goals; it's about giving my best, even when the odds are against me. Playing in the Canadian Accredited Independent Schools (CAIS) tournament was one of the most significant experiences that developed my character. It was a challenge that pushed me physically, mentally, and emotionally. Still, it was one of the most defining moments of my life, teaching me lessons about resilience, teamwork, and perseverance that have stuck with me ever since.

Following an ordinary and tiring day at school, I walked up to my room. My exhausted legs forced themselves up the steps. Entering my room, I dropped my bag and opened my computer. I checked my Gmail as I approached my bed. I had a new email in my inbox. As soon as I saw the subject of the email, my exhaustion vanished: "CAIS Tournament." I had previously heard about the CAIS Tournament and was overwhelmed with joy reading the email. I was informed that my JV co-captain and friend, Sassan Chen, and I would be called up for the competition. As I breathed a sigh of appreciation, I lay on my bed, excited to see what the future had in store for me.

In the following weeks, we joined the CAIS team for training. Every Friday, we played small-sided games before school; they were going well. Sassan and I even received our exclusive CAIS tracksuits (not so exclusive anymore, as the students liked them so much that RSGC decided to sell them to the student body). The tournament formations were also posted on the portal. Now, I had always been a midfielder. However, our coach, Mr. Thornbury, must've channelled his inner Arsene Wenger; he decided I would be their striker, a role that made me both excited and nervous.

On the day of the tournament, dressed in my brand-new RSGC tracksuit, I quickly made my way to the school, motivated by the prospect of a warm bus. Being new to the team, I wasn't surprised to start on the bench, but when I finally got subbed in, I was ready to show Mr. Thornbury my quality. With 10 minutes left on the clock, the ball fell to Sassan in the middle. I knew exactly what to do. Making a diagonal run, Sassan slid the ball through right in front of me. As the defender ran across me, I snapped the ball behind my legs to my left foot. I had all the time in the world. It was me versus the keeper. With the game on the line, I took the shot. I watched it land right into his hands. I had missed the game-winning goal. This save left our opponents more motivated than ever. With 1 minute left, the ref awarded them a penalty following a challenge by Jamie Paterson. After missing the game-winning chance, I had to watch the ball fly into our net; I felt defenceless. Mr. Smith saw me disappointed and came over. "Hey, I know you're disappointed, but I need you to have the memory of a goldfish right now and move on," he said. I knew I had to keep going.

As I sat eating a small snack, I saw Hayden Berkovic on the ground with his boot off. "What's wrong?" I asked. "I think it's broken," he groaned. Losing our starting center-back was a disaster. I was warming up when Coach Smith suddenly called me over. "Liam, how do you feel about playing center-back?" My heart skipped. "Uh... I'll play anywhere, Coach." "That's why I love ya!" he replied.

Thrown into an unfamiliar position, I refused to mess up again. I shut down attacks, won tackles, and we won. My performance earned me a starting spot the next day, but as the games progressed, a sharp pain in my knee worsened. I clenched my jaw—there was no way I was stopping now. We had gone undefeated in our approach to the final, winning three games and drawing one. I had earned my place on the team as the new starting center back. I was more ready than ever, but unfortunately, my knee felt differently.

The final arrived. Both teams were exhausted, but the intensity never dropped. We were determined, and it showed. We were making the HSC varsity team look like pylons. Unfortunately, the HSC goalie was playing like prime David De Gea. As regulation time ended in a deadlock, we headed into extra time, knowing a single moment could decide everything. With both teams digging deep, we finally found our breakthrough. A perfectly timed cross landed at Tye Leider's feet. With ice-cold composure, he slotted it past the keeper. The bench erupted, but there were still minutes left to survive. In the dying seconds, disaster nearly struck.

As a cross swung into our box, Sassan lunged for a clearance but mis-hit it entirely. My heart dropped. Time slowed as the ball skimmed our post, barely missing the net and leaving for a corner. With the brief break in play, I breathed a sigh of relief and hugged Sassan. The final whistle soon followed, and relief washed over us. We had done it; we were national champions. I went to hug my keeper, Joey Passalacqua; we couldn't have done it without him. After the game, the team was still buzzing, filled with emotions of relief, pride, and sheer exhaustion.

The weight of the tournament, the highs and lows, all came crashing down at once. There was no better feeling than hobbling over on my messed-up knee to lift a national trophy. I felt an overwhelming sense of accomplishment, but also something deeper.

This tournament tested me in every way. I was faced with challenges physically, mentally, and emotionally. I started as a new, younger kid, unsure of my place. I even missed a game-winning chance and was forced into a position I had never played before. But I adapted, fought, and proved to myself that I belonged. I learned that resilience isn't about never failing; it's about how you respond when you do. My knee throbbed with every step as I walked off the field for the last time, a reminder of everything I had pushed through. But the pain never mattered. I had given everything, and I had grown because of it. The experience was one of my most defining moments. The challenges I faced shaped the way I approach obstacles today. This tournament wasn't just about winning; it was about proving to myself that no matter the challenge, I have the strength to keep going.

PEER TUTORS

The 2024/25 year saw a total of 35 Peer Tutors come out to workshops. 24 pairs of students worked together weekly! Each tutor learned valuable skills in what it takes to communicate effectively and what it means to belong. we hosted two workshops, filled with delicious food and amazing collaboration among peers. Tutors and students worked together in the library each week to complete outstanding homework and discuss challenging concepts, ending with various games ranging from Kahoot and Blooket to Exploding Kittens and Chess. All Peer Tutors are recognized with a house points as well as a digital credential, a valuable tool to validate the commitment and time spent working with a younger student. Thank you to everyone who came out and participated this year!
